I want to write to you and give you some quick updates and a welcome back from the summer. We have been working hard here to ensure that the building and staff are ready for the return of students. Our custodial staff members have done a great job working to polish the floors, touch up paint, clean the building and make sure we are ready for kids. Front office has been working hard to check and double check schedules, budgets, enrollments and ensure that we are also ready for students.
